

Abstract

[0069] An interactive program guide system is provided. The system facilitates recording of programs selected from the program guide. The system handles 5 the recording and viewing of pay programs, parentally-controlled programs, consecutive programs on different television channels, and programs with and without copy protection. Programs may be recorded using combination television videocassette recorder (TV/VCR) units.